August sees some interesting developments in the range of UV filtering conservation glasses available for the framer

GroGlass have launched

GroGlass Preservation Clear

Preservation Clear is virtually a copy of Tru Vue's Conservation Clear with a very flat coating. Sizes ex stock at the same list price as TruVue Conservation Clear.

Groglass plan to add to their range of conservation glasses later in the year.

Tru Vue have upgraded their coating process to improve the roping effect that was a drawback to their Conservation Clear, Conservation Reflection Control and Museum glasses. This effect has now been largely removed although you may see it if you really look for it.

The new product is now in stock.
